(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 1.—For the second time this year, kidnapers today struck at the family circle of John "Jake The Barber" Factor, boldly abducting the multi-millionaire stock promoter as he was leaving the Della Cafe with a gay party.

A band of gunmen, numbering between twelve and fifteen, sized Factor from the side of his 19 year old son, Jerome, and whisked the internationally known stock wizard away in one of two automobiles. Jerome was kidnaped for $25,000 ransom last April 13.

Factor's wife, Bella, likewise was a horror-stricken witness to the abduction.

Force Two To Accompany Them

The gunmen wheeled alongside the Factor party this morning and halted their cars as they were leaving the swanky roadhouse after a night of revelry. Three automobiles made up the party, and the kidnapers, now fighting extradition to England in connection with stock promotions, was riding in the second car.

Brandishing a formidable variation of weapons—shotguns, machine guns and pistols—the gangsters forced Factor and Al Epstein (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Wheat harvesting has also been started on a farm along the Wilmington road, about five miles north of the city, Pa. News observes

There will probably be an unusually large amount of auto traffic on the highways over the week end and the Fourth holidays. Every driver should make safety the watchword for the period.

With the successful cornerstone laying ceremony at the public square last night, work will now progress rapidly on the erection of the exterior walls of the building.

While fireworks are forbidden in New Castle, they will probably be considerable use of them in the county outside the city limits, and a safe and sane Fourth is urged on all.

Cascade Park is rapidly becoming a real picnic mecca for the people of the city once again. Indications are that there will be a record crowd at the resort on the Fourth.

Why wouldn't it be a good idea to take enough of the beer license fund being paid to the city to fix up the city tennis courts. Even if there are no attendants at the courts, if the nets were provided, players could at least make use of the courts.

(International News Service)

This prediction came this afternoon from W. S. Brotzman, U. S. weather forecaster here.

GEORGICAL MUSEUM, LONDON, July 1.—The world economic conference today waited on President Roosevelt just as it did in the middle of June, when the Anglo-American debt adjustment instead of the currency question was the vital issue holding up international deliberations.

Complete agreement has been reached between the gold bloc, Great Britain, and assistant Secretary of State Raymond Moley for a declaration designed to end violent exchange fluctuations and keep France and her gold allies in the conference despite American opposition to de facto stabilization.

Other Deaths Are Also Due To Heat Wave And Resulting Storms

(International News Service)
An unprecedented death toll directly attributable to the current heat wave was recorded in Pennsylvania today with weather forecasts of "fair and continued warm" giving little hope of relief.

at on the lid of her husband's killing long enough. One night in a speakeasy not long ago she confided to her drinking companions that she was "tired of protecting a lot of mugs."

Thus it was one of these "mugs" for whom the police combed the underworld in the hope of ferreting out the man who cornered Alice Diamond in her gaudily furnished Brooklyn apartment and shot her down by the side of a breakfast table littered with coffee cups and cigarette butts.

She had been dead for more than two days when they found her last night—prone on the floor with her sunken hair matted in a pool of blood.

Cruel Killing.
Beyond the pistol bullet, which crashed through the base of her skull and embedded itself in a wall, there were no clues. Her dress was torn down the back—evidence, only that the killer had seized her as she tried to flee and held her by her clothing as he pressed the muzzle of his gun against her head.

Mrs. Diamond, like many another of the underworld crowd, got nothing but lead when she may have been looking for gold. One bullet silenced her—whether she was actually demanding money or merely gossiping over the glasses in a speakeasy.

What made her a suspect as a squealer was the fact Mrs. Diamond of late had been hanging out in a drinking parlor known to police as a rendezvous where stool pigeons made a practice of spilling their information at a price.

Horses Run Away; Damage Two Cars

Exciting Accident Occurs On Moravia Street About Noon Today

Team of horses attached to a milk delivery wagon of the Rieck-McJunkin Dairy Company, becoming frightened while enroute north on Moravia street, ran away, shortly before noon, today, speeding up Moravia street and then South Jefferson street at a high rate of speed with the heavy milk wagon bouncing all over the street.

Everything went well right until the runaway team and wagon reached the vicinity of the Carnegie Auditorium. Here the car of Roy M. Warnock, 9 Laurel avenue, was parked on one side of the street and that of Merrell C. Kline of 1715 Hamilton street, on the other.

The team was dashing along the street, when the wagon hit first one car and then the other, damaging them to a considerable extent. The horses were stopped by bystanders in the vicinity. The horses were uninjured.

The body of the Kline car was bent, the rear tail light, fender and other parts of the car damaged. The tail light, body, rear bumper and other parts of the Warnock car were damaged.

National Textile Code Is Studied

Hugh Johnson Will Study Textile Code; Roosevelt Must Approve

COAL INDUSTRY CODE IS NEXT

By T. N. SANDIFER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Carrying voluntary wage concessions from the textile manufacturers of the country, and with many epoch-making departures for industry as a whole, the national code of the textile industry today was before Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator, for such revision as he and his aides may decide upon before speeding it on to President Roosevelt.

The code was amended at the final hearing by increasing the wage to a minimum of $12 for southern workers and $13 for northern mills, with definite abolition of child labor. The 40-hour week, Johnson was told, would be essential to the industry because a shorter week would make it difficult to obtain sufficient trained operatives.

Approximately 100,000 workers, above the total engaged in textiles in 1929, will be absorbed into the industry through the 40-hour week, it was promised.

Coal Code Next.

Johnson is anxious to put the code in operation at the earliest practicable date. He expects to spend this week-end getting his recommendations ready for the president.

Meantime, he is awaiting presentation of the coal operators' agreement, stated to be ready July 5, and he was informed that four other basic industrial codes are about ready. These include the steel industry's agreement.

Moved by the spirit of cooperation, which he said was manifested by the entire textile industry in shaping the code, Johnson paid a high tribute to the leaders who have assisted him.

"You have done a remarkable thing," he said, "and your spirit in this whole effort has been above reproach."

CORNERSTONE IS LAID ON FRIDAY AT POST OFFICE

A. Eckles, architect for the building, and George J. Murphy, representative of the A. W. Kutsche company, Detroit general contractors for the new structure.

A. W. Kutsche, head of the contracting firm, who had tentatively planned to be present, was unable to attend.

In behalf of the bricklayers and masons local here, union membership cards were presented to Postmaster MacNab and the two postmasters, Mr. Crawford and Mr. Moore, by Miles E. Myers, resident federal construction engineer for the new building. That made them union men.

Clubs Provide Trowels.
But the cornerstone laying could not proceed without trowels, so the three leading service clubs of the city had representatives present to furnish them. Each of the trowels was silver-plated and bore an appropriate inscription which included the recipient's name. To the three they will be keepsakes.

President W. J. Caldwell handed Mr. MacNab a trowel in behalf of the Rotary club, President Norman E. Clark gave Mr. Moore his as a Kiwanis club gift and President-elect Paul G. Dingedy, representing the Lions, gave one to Mr. Crawford. The three recipients desponded briefly.

After the metal box had been set, the Cascade band struck up the national anthem as the crowd stood tense to watch a crane lower the heavy cornerstone into place.

Judge Hildebrand promptly introduced to the audience immediately afterward Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, Westminster college head. He had just arrived from a hurried trip from Pittsburgh.

Dr. Galbreath speaks "I count it a privilege to take part in this ceremony of yours today," responded the college head to Judge Hildebrand's introduction. In the midst of his remarks, the Westminster college and Dr. Galbreath together may consider it a tribute to have been chosen to make the principal cornerstone address.

"The United States government," he swiftly continued "is not building post offices for dying people—and when we see these kind of ceremonies in these pessimistic days it's a mighty refreshing. This building, my friends, is a symbol of the faith that your government has in the future."

Dr. Galbreath rapidly recalled the old-time postal service, likening it to a cornerstone in a community. He praised the modern mailing system of today, reminding the crowd that each and every one is daily affected by it.

"Any decent citizen doesn't object to paying a dollar in taxes when he gets a dollar back for it in something like this building," said President Galbreath. "It's in things such as this that your dollar and mine are invested."

Tribute To U. S. Courage
The college president spoke under a handicap because the intense heat kept the crowd shifting, but throughout the address the attention was fine. The speaker's words could not carry to the entire crowd, but the majority could hear.

Closing his scholarly and well-chosen message, Dr. Galbreath said that today he holds a new respect for the citizenry of America as a result of the high courage, patience and loyalty displayed during the three trying years of depression that our country has passed through. He paid a high tribute to President Roosevelt.

"And, my New Castle friends, when we've established the strength of the people, we've strengthened government," he concluded.

Father J. A. Doerr, pastor of St. Joseph's church, pronounced the benediction as Dr. Galbreath closed his address, and Judge Hildebrand adjourned the assemblage.

Numerous postmasters of surrounding cities and towns came here for the day's program, as did others. Postmasters included, among others, Clarence Dickinson, Butler; C. L. White, New Wilmington; Miss Kerr, postmistress at Pulaaki; Paul L. Boyd, Mars; W. H. Smith, Valencia, and Postmaster Crawford of Zellenople. It is thought others may have attended. L. E. Langill, construction engineer for Greenville's new post office, came here in the company of Dr. J. H. Martin.

The Kutsche company, under Erection Superintendent Frank E. Engstrom, had erected a platform along the northeast corner of the building. Flags waved from both beams over the stand, and on both sides of the speakers' table.

Present post office employees were grouped together directly in front of the speaker's program.

City and state police, and Chief of Police John F. Haven directed the crowd and remained on duty until the ceremonies came to an end.

Three Hurt In Walmo Accident

Truck Overtakes Into Small Ravine Along The Road

SMALL GIRL IS WORST INJURED

Ida Saros, 12, of 1610 Hamilton street, this city, and Mrs. Clara Rotgaber and her son, John Rotgaber, 17, of New Wilmington R. D. No. 2, were brought to the James Memorial hospital this afternoon about 2 o'clock as the result of an auto accident near Walmo.

The girl, who was accompanying the Rotgabers to spend a few days at their home, is the most seriously injured.

All three of them were riding in the cab of a light truck, enroute to New Wilmington. When near the first curve beyond Walmo, an auto in which R. C. Coleman and wife, of East Liverpool, Ohio, were enroute to Mentor, went to pass the truck. The truck turned slightly to the left at the time, and the cars touched each other, sufficient to put the truck out of control and it went over an embankment.

The truck was practically demolished, and it was found that all three were injured, and they were brought to the hospital here by City Solicitor Robert M. White, who happened along.

Mrs. and Mrs. Coleman escaped injury.

until President Roosevelt gives the text of the declaration his formal approval.

Moley told the American delegates, he hopes to get a reply from President Roosevelt today.

The declaration, which Moley helped to modify, is described in American circles as a resolution affirming the belief of signatory nations that gold is still the yardstick of international monetary measures and proclaiming it the duty of all governments to curb wildly fluctuating exchanges by whatever methods are at their disposal.

Halt Speculation
In America, this means the federal reserve system would act to keep the dollar within reasonable limits as against pure speculation embraced by international gamblers in Amsterdam, London, and Paris.

The declaration is far short of what the French wanted, but it was the most they could get, and it would enable Finance Minister Bonnet of France to tell the chamber of deputies he has had reaffirmation of the gold standard by all the principal powers, thereby saving his face with his Paris critics.

The Americans insist it leaves the dollar absolutely free and that President Roosevelt's monetary power would be absolutely untouched or unaffected by the declaration.

Bonnet, who had to leave London to be present at today's cabinet meeting in Paris, made no effort to conceal his dissatisfaction.

Goal of the racers is the Los Angeles municipal airport, where the national air races get under way today.

For a time a thrilling aerial speed duel seemed assured with entrance of both Mrs. Putnam and Ruth Nichols in the women's division of the race. Shortly before midnight, however, Miss Nichols postponed her start because of weather and delay in reading her plane and Mrs. Putnam was left the sole woman entry.

She sent her red Lockheed-Vega cabin monoplane hurtling into the dark west at 3:30 a. m. (EDT) aided by a steady tail wind and with reports of good flying weather westward. Mrs. Putnam said she plans to dash to Wichita, Kansas, refuel there and hop off for Los Angeles.

First of the men pilots to get away was Col. Roscoe Turner, of Hollywood, seeking to beat the 12

Roscoe Turner, one of the three remaining entrants in the New York-to-Los Angeles Bendix speed race, apparently was in the lead at the half way mark today. He landed his Wedell-Williams plane at Wichita at 8:55 a. m., quickly refueled, and at thirty seconds after nine o'clock took off for Albuquerque, N. M.

He made the flight from New York to Wichita in five hours and 56 minutes.

James R. Wedell followed Turner, landing at Wichita at 9:50 a. m. Wedell refueled and soared on his way four and one-half minutes later. He was six hours and three minutes out of New York.

Turner was leading Wedell by seven minutes in elapsed time at Wichita.

Amelia Earhart only woman entrant, in a slower plane, lagged but hoped to make a non-stop flight from St. Louis, where she landed for fuel at 8:40 this morning, to Los Angeles.

A PRAYER
Don't give me justice.
What would I do with it if I got it?
I never asked for it. I would not be having it. . . Give me mercy, instead. Give me an Even Break.

So many people say, "All I want is justice." So stupid of them to ask for justice. If they had it, if they got it, they'd be sorry. . . They would find her stern and exact, and they might not like her—particularly if she gave to them the justice that they ask and not the justice that they desire. . . Me, I'm too smart to ask for that. An old man taught me better years ago, and I've held my tongue ever since. I know better now than to ask for justice.

Here I sit and tap at a typewriter and remember things I've done, emotions I've had, errors and crimes and failures. I could think of a thousand things I'd rather forget. Words I've said. Actions I'd wish undone. Things to make my face flush and regret flood in upon me. . . Not great crimes, but all those little ones that any human being does.

And were I to ask for justice, all these could be weighed against me, and I'd withdraw my plea in shame and confusion. . . And were any man to ask for justice from the lady with the bandaged eyes and even scales, he'd not be glad if she laid her justice heavily upon him. Not that we are mighty villains, but because each of us had made his million little mistakes that could be charged against him if he asked for a final reckoning of his personal account.

So give me no justice. Keep that for the hardy souls who have soaked themselves in brine and can endure anything. . . Give me Kind Understanding, instead; give me that Even Break, give me Mercy—and I'll manage to make out with these exceedingly well and be more thankful.

Compromise On Rail Wages
Linked With Recovery Plan

Government Intervention Believed To Have Prevented
Disastrous Struggle Over Companies' Proposal
To Make Reduction

Universal commendation is given by the public to the decision to postpone for a year the efforts of the railroads to reduce wages. This is a compromise which is ranked with other measures intended to bring about improved economic conditions in the country and, especially, to create purchasing power as a means of stimulating business. It is also felt that a labor struggle at this time would prove disastrous.

"Abandonment of wage reduction" in the opinion of the PORTLAND OREGON JOURNAL "is evidence of the stabilization and improvement toward which we are headed: an indication that there are to be more jobs and more profits." That paper sees in the rail action certainty that "the buying power of the railroad workers will not be reduced." The CONNELLVILLE COURIER believes that "any wage reduction, such as the rail executives had proposed, would have been out of line with the Government's efforts to increase purchasing power as the basis for a prosperity revival." The LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL advises that "the Roosevelt business recovery plans should have a chance to prove their efficacy, and that 'if matters do not improve sufficiently by a year from now to justify continuance of the present reduced wage scale, it will be time to consider more drastic measures.'"

"A general strike or lockout, with its potentialities of growing bitterness and prolonged paralysis of industry and business, would have been a national calamity," says the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW while NEWARK EVENING NEWS declares that, "in the light of a definitely improving economic outlook, the railways wage reduction move was made on the eve of revolutionary changes to be brought about by new Federal railroad legislation. Upon the economies effected and every effort of the Administration has been in the opposite direction."

"The settlement" in the judgment of the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, "is important to other interests than the railroads. The recently enacted railroad act permits a far-reaching experiment in the coordinating of operating facilities. Upon the economies effected and the lower rates thus made possible rests to a large extent the success of the roads in recapturing their old predominance in the field of transportation. Thanks to Mr. Eastman's intervention, the experiment may now proceed without fear of strikes and other upward interruptions."

"With the railroads of the country and their employees now linked with the efforts of the Government to bring about recovery from the stagnation in business," according to the ALTOONA MIRROR, "each has demonstrated that business recovery should come first and wage disputes afterward. If this country is going to stage a comeback and we are optimistic enough to believe that it will, it will be through cooperation of all interests. The railroads and

During the banking holiday a large industrial concern in the Middle West was caught short of cash and unable to meet its payroll. The manager of the plant called the employees together and explained the situation to them, but said that the company would be glad to arrange for credit for any of its help at the butcher's, baker's, or at any store where the necessities of life were sold.

"Any of you who desire this assistance, please raise your hand," said the manager. Not a hand was raised. But several of the men, however, asked: "Could you arrange credit for me at the filling stations?"

COLLEGE COURSE ON PARENT PROBLEMS

A FIVE-DAY course of lectures on family relationships was given to a hundred teachers, social workers and parents this week at Dickinson College under the auspices of the Home Department of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs. The lectures deal with personality adjustments in marriage, child development, sex education, maternal hygiene and kindred subjects, the whole scope suggesting the summer school of eugenics conducted at Vassar College.

The undertaking may prove the forerunner of similar activities to be launched in the future in various parts of the state and country. For the Institute of Politics at Williams College was followed by round-table conferences on other campuses, all dealing generally with matters of national concern. When the passing of these enterprises, temporarily at least as far as the public is concerned, it would not be surprising if problems of domestic life should inspire a series of group studies on the basis of the Carlisle experiment.

COMING INTO THE OPEN

Out at the University of California, where athletic supremacy has been practically unheard of for nearly 10 years, the "Big C Society" announces it will place a paid worker in the field to solicit capable high and prep school athletes.

This is merely coming into the open with a system that has been in vogue surreptitiously for many, many years; it is understandable, too, in view of the manner in which the University of Southern California and Stanford have been stealing athletic glory from the Berkeley institution.

But back here in the east—and especially in this tri-state sector which was once a hotbed of collegiate "professionalism"—it is a bit difficult of comprehension. The Carnegie reports on proselytizing were taken rather seriously in this section—as witness recent action by schools in adopting a "simon pure" football and basketball bias.

Out on the coast, however, they're determined to maintain their recently-acquired athletic supremacy over the east—and California is evidently keen to keep U. S. C., the famed Trojans of football and track fame—from grabbing all of that supremacy for itself.

A SCIENTIFIC STUDY OF BALDNESS

Little has hitherto been known of the causes of baldness. Tonics are empirical remedies, as many realize. The theory that a life of virtue prevents loss of hair has also been discredited. The traditional bald-headers in the front row at musical comedies are largely mythical. It is therefore gratifying to have science tackle the subject. At the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Chicago a learned scalp specialist gave out some highly interesting information. There may be some reluctance to accept it off-hand. But the survey included 17,000 persons. This fact suggests that it was fairly comprehensive.

As usual when science takes a hand the blondes get the worst of it. They lose their hair more rapidly, we are told, than those of darker complexions. This may be so, but no reason is given for it. Furthermore, red hair stays on longest. Of the belief that it turns grey quickest nothing is said. There must be some principle of pigmentation at work here; it deserves intensive investigation. Irrespective of color, persons of a highly nervous temperament are the most frequent sufferers from loss of hair. This seems plausible in a way, but the mere fact does not quite sufficiently satisfy curiosity.

Again, persons who work out of doors are less susceptible to baldness than those who work indoors. The masculine fad of going without a hat may be one result of this theory. No bald Indian was found by the investigator—another significant circumstance, since it implies that the Red Man has been less exposed than his white brother to the deteriorating influences of civilization. A point upon which more light is needed is the greater frequency of baldness in men than in women. It is because women have hitherto more often gone hatless or at least worn hats that do not shut out light and air.

The effect of age on the hair is another matter of interest. Why are some men of sixty abundantly thatched, while others half their age present a top surface like a billiard ball? Then too baldness is sometimes checked mysteriously half way, giving an effect of scantiness without actual depletion. Clearly science has so far taken us only half way in the consideration of a subject greatly affecting human happiness. The American Association can not too soon treat it with thorough scientific accuracy. And why blondes? This is the first problem to be solved.

CITY TRUNK ROADS

Examination of the National Industrial Recovery Act passed by congress with its provision of $400,000,000 for direct grants by the federal government to the states for highway construction reveals that the measure specifically says the money made available may be used by the states for the building of trunk highways "into and through" cities.

Up to this time, federal aid road funds have been limited to construction in rural and suburban communities. In the new act that restriction is removed and to make that fact emphatic the definite statement is included that the money may be used in cities.

Furthermore, there is evidence that the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, which is to administer the $400,000,000 fund, intends to see that trunk highway building in the cities by the states is no longer neglected. In explaining the bill, the bureau calls attention to the previous restriction and points out that as a result of it many excellent roads have been built right up to the gates of the cities and that through traffic has been dumped there "to get through a city as best it could on whatever type of street might be provided."

State governments, especially where rural communities have a powerful voice in the legislatures, have been only too glad to use the federal aid restriction against city road construction as an alibi for their own failure to use state funds for that purpose. It is high time that this practice was stopped, and it is well if the federal government is to take the leadership in getting a square deal on roads for the cities.—The Providence Evening Bulletin.

DAYS GONE BY.

You are beginning to realize what savings you might have made from the income you once had.

A little self-denial might have greatly increased your little hoard.

The cost of living is much less than in those days, that is true, but still you had more then, and less outlay.

The lowered living cost does not make up for loss of work or curtailed income which you must now consider.

If you had watched expenditures as you do now there would have been considerable difference in your financial condition.

You think that if you ever regain an earning point approaching the wages or salary you had a few years ago, that you will be wiser and save more.

But it is doubtful whether you would do better or not.

Your old spendthrift ways would undoubtedly return and your efforts to save would be feeble and ineffective.

Few really learn by adversity, but you had a good time while it lasted.

Then don't grumble now while you pinch a few nickels to meet your obligations day after day.

If you don't get satisfaction from the good time you had once, it is about all you will have to fall back on from the past.

Salvation Army To Launch Campaign For Fund Of $3,000

Splendid endorsements of the work of the Salvation Army and its needs locally, have been received from Mayor Charles B. Mayne, the Rev. Dr. Walter E. McClure, president of the New Castle Ministerial Association, and Dr. G. S. Bennett, chairman of the Lawrence County Emergency Relief Board.

The receipt of these endorsements as the zero hour of the appeal of the Salvation Army Corps in this city for $3,000 with which to finance its present indebtedness of approximately a thousand dollars and enable the army to continue its work in the manner that it should be done, is nearing, gives William M.

down financially, but spiritually and in a welfare and helpful sense, it was far from out and has done and is doing a work far out of proportion to the funds that have been available.

Endorsements
The endorsements of Dr. McClure and Dr. Bennett follow:

June 27, 1933.

To Whom It May Concern:
This is to certify that I give my hearty endorsement to Ensign Fred W. Goddard, and his work through the Salvation Army. Anything the people of New Castle may do to help this worthy cause will be appreciated.

Signed:
W. E. McClure, President New Castle Ministerial Association.

June 29, 1933.

I believe the Salvation Army has made a valuable contribution to the social and religious life of our community and is, therefore, worthy of any support that we may be able to give it. Inasmuch as this organization is receiving no support from the Community Chest, it is entirely dependent upon the voluntary contributions of the members of this community for its support.

Signed:
G. S. Bennett, Chairman, Lawrence County Emergency Relief Board.

It is suggested that various orders, societies, organizations, including Sunday School classes of various churches, may be able to help the army in this appeal, through the medium of organization donations. Those giving to the army for its work here, may rest assured that as near as possible, every cent given will be made to work overtime in the interest of the needy people of this community.

Checks may be mailed in or left at the headquarters of the treasurer or the army at any time now. Checks should be made payable to John D. Kennedy, treasurer, or the Salvation Army Home Service Fund. Mr. Kennedy may be found at the People's Savings and Trust Company and the Army Headquarters is located at 133 Water Street.

The appeal is scheduled to open Monday July 3 and close Monday July 10 and it is hoped that the appeal will not be in vain and that the army locally will be financed sufficiently to meet its obligations and carry on for another year.

No appeal for funds here has been made by the army in two years, and yet it has carried on faithfully and efficiently. It is not in the community chest and must therefore depend on the generosity of the people in general, many of whom realize the work that has been done without funds and what might be expected of the army, if sufficient funds were available.

Never was the slogan of the army more completely demonstrated than in the past two years, when its officers without funds or regular pay, carried on and helped others in accordance with the slogan which is "A Man May Be Down, But He's Never Out." The army locally was urging further reductions in wages at a time when business seems to be improving and living costs are likely to rise. It is a state of affairs the country will welcome. It is in no mood for controversies which can be avoided by mutual concessions.

Untimely zeal" is seen by the RUTLAND HERALD in the action by the companies "precipitating a wage cut dispute" although that paper recognizes that the railroads have suffered from "too much regulation" and competition by motors. This view is held also by the LEXINGTON LEADER, but the DES MOINES TRIBUNE suspects that the railroads were "warding off for the present the danger of a row over restoring the 10 per cent cut." The OKLAHOMA CITY argues: "In the co-ordination of transportation, there should be an adjustment to place all common carriers on an equitable basis in the matter of labor and wages. Undoubtedly the railroads have been handicapped in this respect in the past, largely because of the power of the brotherhoods controlling important spheres of employment. There must be an adjustment toward equality, if the railroads are to have a fair chance of survival."

Prominent Italian Citizens Form Club

Citizenship, Mature Years And Long Residence In New Castle Required

Organization of prominent citizens of the city into an organization, the object of which is not only to have social affairs for their own entertainment, but also promote the interests of all Italian American Citizens of the community, has been perfected.

At a meeting this week, after many weeks of preliminary work, the organization to be known as the Veterans Italian American Citizens Club of New Castle, was formed and officers elected. While the organizers, including the officers, have designated themselves as founders, because of the fact that they conceived and put the idea into effect, the membership is already on the increase and all who can meet the requirements will be granted membership. The founders number seventeen.

The organization is the result of the fact that those belonging, men of more mature years, found themselves without a social organization and objected to by many of the younger generation in their organizations.

Membership is such as to make the organization rather exclusive and only the most desirable Italian Americans of the city eligible. The requirements are first of all, American Citizenship, a record entirely free from all criminal or court stigma, a residence of thirty years or more in New Castle and an age of fifty years or more.

The organization plans a social session once a month and a picnic in the immediate future.

Officers of the new club are: president, Giovanni Casaccia; treasurer, Donato Piroletti; secretary, David Galbis; financial secretary, Pasquale Scusa; chairman of the investigating committee, Francesco Scunzio.

The membership at present in addition to the officers are: Giuseppe Bordonaro, Pasquale Fazzone, Pasquale Biolo, Francesco Canga, Pasquale Cioffa, Giuseppe Yaacobucci, Francesco Mangino, Michele Cea, Domenico Esili, Antonio DeCaprio, Giuseppe DiGiacomo, Antonio Masaro, Attanasio Pavolone, Francesco Vitelli, Gennaro Ginocchi, Bartolomeo Leonardi, Luigi Mastrangelo, Antonio Faraone, Antonio DiCerro, Vincenzo Massaro, and Michele Latorio.

City Considering Construction Move

Officials Return From Conference At State Capital On Move

Federal Funds Would Be Used On Projects Under Consideration

Indications are that the city of New Castle will launch a construction program during the next two months as the result of a conference Thursday at Harrisburg between Director of Improvements Stanley Treser and City Engineer Harry Hoskins with the chairman and secretary of the Pennsylvania Industrial Recovery committee. The cost of the improvements may total several hundred thousand dollars.

Treser and Hoskins reported to Mayor Charles B. Mayne and colleagues this morning that it is unquestionably possible for the federal government to grant to the city 30 per cent of the cost of labor and materials and to loan the balance on reasonable security. Projects which are a part of a general plan, such as sewer projects, will be given preference, they declared.

The prospectus received last week by Mayor Mayne must be filled out immediately and returned to the state industrial recovery committee, in charge of the operation in Pennsylvania. This is a necessary preliminary step. It is absolutely necessary that plans and specifications be ready on which a contract could be let before any money will be loaned or granted.

The committee expects at least a hundred times more applications than there will be money to give out but the secretary feels, according to the city officials, that if New Castle is among the first to apply that the good financial condition of the city should result in approval of the city's application for aid.

Engineer Hoskins said that preparation of plans and specifications for proposed improvements will start Monday. At least six weeks time will be needed before the plans are completed.

Recently the engineer submitted to the city directors a list of proposed improvements. They will consider these proposed improvements and select the ones for which the city engineer will prepare the plans immediately.

Distressed School Districts Can Be Paid Full Amounts For 1933-34

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, July 1.—Attorney General William A. Schnader informed Dr. James N. Rule, superintendent of public instruction, that complete payments can be made to distressed school districts for the year 1933-1934.

During the next school year, Schnader said, the remainder of the $53,000,000 appropriation may be made on a pro rata distribution. "To reduce the payments during the year 1933-1934 would impose additional hardship on hard pressed districts, because they did not have an opportunity to prepare themselves for the reductions," Schnader wrote in a formal opinion of the Edmunds Act.

The school aid appropriation for the present biennium is $5,200,000 less than the estimate requirements for the two-year period.

Assail Farley For Coercion

U. P. Assembly Deplores Effort To Force Repeal Of 18th Amendment

ACTION TAKEN AT PITTSBURGH SESSION

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, July 1.—Postmaster General James A. Farley was the target for vigorous criticism in a report submitted by the committee on reform to the 75th general assembly of the United Presbyterian church here today.

In connection with the current wet-and-dry struggle over retention or rejection of the eighteenth amendment, the report declared:

"We emphatically denounce the coercion efforts of Postmaster General Farley, the chief dispenser of patronage, in sending letters to all urging them to work for repeal. 'Such methods clash with the fundamental principles of our republic. Is it the purpose of the program to relieve the millionaire tax dodger from payment of income taxes by putting it on the backs of the poor, who would pay most of the drink bill? Or might it be an effort to bring the entire United States under the domination and control of a liberal group who will break down our every safeguard with the financial and political support of the liquor interests?'"

The report commended world peace, urged a world court, condemned "Jingoism," deplored the prevalence of divorce and urged a pulpit campaign against Sunday sports. It also petitioned congress to send the "stop-alien" amendment to the constitution to the states for ratification, so that congressional districts would be based on a census of actual citizens rather than on citizen and alien population.

(International News Service) ALTOONA, Pa., July 1.—Altoona's heat toll climbed with the death today of two aged men, prostrated by the torrid temperatures. ... It's backed by an UNCONDITIONAL 3-YEAR GUARANTEE ... it saves you $35 to $75

Majestic can offer you this remarkable guarantee because Majestic design and construction make possible such a guarantee. See the Majestic Electro-Sealed COLD DOME. This dome of steel fused to steel encloses the heart of refrigeration—the motor and compressor. Within its walls, which dirt, dampness, and abuse cannot penetrate, the refrigerating unit runs in a bath of oil—good for a lifetime of wear.

In ordinary refrigerators the vital mechanism is exposed. No matter how good it is, in time it must suffer from that exposure. No refrigerator with exposed mechanism attempts to match Majestic's unconditional 3-year guarantee on the Electro-Sealed COLD DOME.

Compare guarantees. And compare prices—but don't be misled by apparently low prices on undersized refrigerators. You will discover that Majestic Refrigeration costs from $35 to $75 less than ordinary hermetically sealed refrigerators—and actually no more, size for size, than the exposed-mechanism type.

If you are interested in longer-lasting, better refrigeration—and greatest value for your money—be sure and see Majestic!

 This de luxe Majestic is America's outstanding value in a big but economical 2-door refrigerator. Low price, convenient terms. ## Treasurers Cannot Collect Tax Liens Fee, Is Decision (International News Service) SHARON, Pa., July 1.—A blow to the practice of county treasurers in collecting a fee of one dollar on each tax lien filed was delivered today by Judge J. A. McLaughry of Mercer county when he ruled there was nothing in the state code permitting such collections. The ruling was handed down in a test case instituted by County Commissioner Harry Gibson and Jake Goldberg, Sharon councilmen. Several county treasurers thru-out the state, according to the plaintiffs of the action, collect for tax liens, a practice they claim is an added burden to taxpayers when they are able to reclaim property on which taxes have been delinquent.

Negroes Assessed Fines By Mayor

Quite a noisy party was in progress in a house in the rear of the old macaroni factory on Moravia street last night and the police visited the place. Slim Miller, negro, was in the act of drinking some moonshine and Robert McFall, negro, became quite sassy. They were arrested and this morning they were assessed fines of $5 with the alternative of five days in jail on charges of disorderly conduct. They are making an effort to pay and avoid a five day stay in the county jail.

Three Cars Are Damaged In Crash At Noon

Three cars were badly damaged at 12:15 today when the car driven by W. Leslie Wilson went out of control near Homestead street on North Mercer, hit a tree, careened into the street and into a Hudson sedan, careened back into the street and plunged into a Chevrolet sedan.

Mr. Wilson was at a loss to explain the action of his car but said that it got out of control near Mercer and Grant street. It sideswiped a tree first. The impetus of the car was so great that it went on down Mercer and hit the Hudson sedan bearing the license number of 57-C-11. The left front wheel of the sedan was smashed off, the front axle twisted, and the left front fender badly crumpled.

Continuing on its way Wilson's car hit the Chevrolet sedan bearing the license number of 16-B-22, smashing the left front wheel, twisting the axle and crumpling the fender.

Mr. Wilson was not hurt but his car suffered considerably in the wreck.

Wiley Post Plans For World Flight

Accompanied By "Robot" Or Mechanical Man, Hopes For Six-Day Success

Is Undaunted By Fate Of Jimmy Mattern In Alaskan Area

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 1.—Around the world in six days—and in six hopes! This is the ambitious project of Wiley Post, 34-year-old Oklahoma aviator who plans to take off, weather permitting, late next week from Floyd Bennett airport in Brooklyn.

Is Not Afraid
The fate of "Smiling Jimmy" Mattern, who vanished on route from Khabarovsk, Siberia to Nome, Alaska on a similar flight a few weeks ago is not worrying Post in the slightest. Post thinks Mattern's ill-starred voyage only serves to emphasize the achievement he soon expects to accomplish.

Post will fly alone. He will be accompanied, however, by an automatic pilot, or robot pilot—a mechanical man. Here is the itinerary of Post's projected 155,400-mile trip:

New York to Berlin—3,900 miles.
Berlin to Novo-Sibirsk—2,600 miles.
Novo-Sibirsk to Khabarovsk—2,250 miles.
Khabarovsk to Fairbanks, Alaska—3,000 miles.
Fairbanks to Edmonton, Canada—1,450 miles.
Edmonton to New York—2,000 miles.

New Holds Record
Flying around the world is no new experience for Post. He and Harold Gatty of Los Angeles circled the globe in June 1931 in 8 days 15 hours and 51 minutes. The previous record was made by the Dirigible Graf Zeppelin which in August 1929 circumnavigated the earth in 21 days 7 hours and 34 minutes.

Post is now making final plans for the new round-the-world flight. He made a trip to Dayton, Ohio, this week and had a new direction finder installed in his monoplane, "The Winnie Mae of Oklahoma."

He visited the hydrographic office in Washington, D. C., where he checked maps. From now on until the take-off he will remain at or near Floyd Bennett Field.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brown and daughters of New Wilmington spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown.

Rev. E. D. Thompson and son, Vincent, spent Tuesday at Conneautville, Pa., attending the annual picnic of the Ida M. Cribbs Home.

PARENTS VISIT YOUNG CAMPERS

Camp East Brook Girls Entertain Guests With After-Supper Program

About fifty parents stopped in at Camp East Brook of the Y. W. C. A. to see their daughters Friday evening. A few were there for supper, but most of the number came for the after supper program, main features of which were two playlets and a pirate skit.

Those taking part in the playlets, directed by Miss Geraldine Turk, were:

"When Poppy Forgot"—Patricia Ann Taylor, Claire Kohn, Patty Preston, Dorothy Mae Sturdy, Jane Brennenman, Jean West, Nancy Blaine, Shirley Tobin and Naomi Conn.

"The Witch's Knight"—Wanda Wynder, Dorothy Wallace, Mildred Buskirk, Jessie Otterdinger, Joan Preston, Jeannette Kulkin, and Ethel Broadman.

All the campers took part in "The Pirate Squall" with Jean West as chief and Eleanor Emery as mate. This was directed by Miss Ruth Lewis.

Wanda Wynder, Ethel and Betty Broadman and Jeannette Kulkin have passed their "beginners" swimming tests. Isabel Douglas and Betty Jane Kison have passed the "advanced swimmers" tests. Miss Ruth Lewis has won her pin for senior life saving.

Reject Plans For Paid Personnel To Distribute Relief

(International News Service)
BROOKVILLE, Pa., July 1.—No good, except to the "political faithful" would come of the state's plan to set up a paid board to administer relief in Jefferson county, the emergency relief committee charged today in rejecting the recommendations.

The new system was submitted by Miss Elsie Lawrence, representative of the state welfare department, who was sent here more than two weeks ago to attempt arbitration of a dispute between county relief heads.

Miss Lawrence said her investigation disclosed the need of paid personnel if impartial food distribution is to be had. The present board should act in an advisory capacity, she suggested.

There was a similar charge here, but it was waived in view of the Canton charge.

Ralph Metcalfe Beats Owens In Race At Chicago

Cleveland High School Boy No Match For Marquette Star In Feature Race

NEW YORK A. C. WINS TEAM CROWN

By JOHN C. HOFFMAN
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, July 1.—The century of the century that was on and then off and then on again is now run and Ralph Metcalfe, the midnight express of Marquette University, is still the fastest human at leg-work. They were all there, walking, talking, tossing, hopping, skipping and jumping, last night in the National A. A. U. track and field championships at Soldiers Field before a scant 6,000 customers, but none so much as the bronzed Marquette streak who not only beat Jesse Owens, the Cleveland High School boy, in the 100-meter dash, but left him to gasp in astonishment at the power and dash of the elder negro.

New York First
The New York A. C. won the team competition with a top heavy total of 56½ points. Louisiana State, winners of the N. C. A. A. team championship, placed second with a total of 23 points. The Olympic Club of San Francisco took third with 17½ points in all.

The 100-meter was to be the feature of a dismal, sultry evening under the glare of the floodlights, but it was neither the feature of last evening nor any other evening. Metcalfe cut through the night to dangle a field of weary young men, the second of whom was the Ebony Jimmy Johnston of Illinois State Normal, but at the end he was fully three yards ahead of Johnston and two-fifths of a second slower than the world's record of 10.3 seconds.

Legion Of Honor Will Play Monday

Hot Battle Is Expected On Municipal Links Between Opposing Sides

Wilbert Chapman's Cavaliers will try to lower the standards of Sweeney's Swashbucklers on Monday evening, to avenge the defeat administered by the latter's cohorts on last Monday evening, when play is resumed at the Municipal course.

Sweeney's golfers were in fine fettle last Monday and turned in some remarkably low scores, by actual count. They have promised to do even better.

It has been rumored that some of Chapman's team have been practicing up on strange courses during the past week, in the hopes of getting back to form, and may be able to spring a surprise.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the evening as has been customary in the past.

Senators Lead League Again

See-Saw American League Race Finds Washington Back On Top Of Heap

INDIANS TRIM YANKS 13 TO 12

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 1.—Washington's spurt featured the pennant races in June. The Nats won 20 games and lost only seven and took the lead in the American League scramble while the Yanks were winning 18 and losing 13.

The Giants set the pace in the National league, winning 19 and losing nine, while Pittsburgh dropped 18 out of 30 and dropped from first to third place. The Cardinals hung up only 14 victories against 13 defeats but stayed close to the pace by their ability to whip New York.

They have won all seven of their contests with the Giants.

Four is leading.

Jimmy Fox whacked 13 homers during the month and took a big lead in the home run derby. He hit No. 30 yesterday as the A's divided a pair of slugfests with St. Louis.

With Burns and Storti each getting four hits, including a homer, the Browns took the opener 12 to 11 by scoring four runs in the ninth.

Rube Walberg went the route for hits and in the ninth and won 11 to 7 with the aid of Mike Higgins, who hit five for five. Higgins also got three hits in the opener.

Washington took undisputed possession of first place when Alvin Crowder won a 2 to 1 duel from Tommy Bridges of Detroit while the Yankees lost a 13 to 12 slugfest to Cleveland when the Indians scored four runs in the ninth.

This was a wild and woolly affair marked by 28 hits, 18 bases on balls, seven errors and four hits by "Bad News" Hale of the Indians.

Indians Advance.

The Indians are now tied for fourth place with the White Sox, who lost to the Red Sox 4 to 2 in a duel between Ted Lyons and Henry Johnson. Johnson allowed but four hits and pitched to only 28 batters.

The combination of Jerome (Dixie) Dean and "Ducky" Wukky Medwick steered the Cardinals to a 1 to 0 triumph over the Giants. Dean held the New Yorkers to six hits while Hal Schumacher, New York's youthful ace, held St. Louis to five blows and was ruined only by Medwick's homer in the ninth inning.

The Cards now trail the Giants by only 2½ games.

Van Mungo, pitching his second game in two days, hurled Brooklyn to a 6 to 3 victory over the Cubs. Joe Stripp of the Dodgers had a perfect day at bat with five hits, including two doubles, and drove in three runs.

Braves Go Up.

Boston's rampant Braves, only two games out of third place, scored their fifth consecutive victory and their ninth triumph in ten starts by shattering Cincinnati 9 to 2, behind Ben Cantwell's steady pitching. Biff Berger's 14th homer and another by Pinky Whitney featured the Boston attack.

Castle Hills Caddies Win

Ellwood City Country Club Caddies Lose At Castle Hills 14 To 10

Castle Hills golf course caddies defeated the Ellwood City Country Club caddies 14 to 10 yesterday morning at the Castle Hills course in an 18-hole match. Low scorers were Mike Evangelist, Bill Duncho and Izzy Solomon, all of the Castle Hills team, with 81½. Philip Vicari was low for Ellwood City with 83. Gene MacDonald, pro at Castle Hills, refereed the matches.

A return match at Ellwood City Country club will be held at a later date.

The results of the match: Castle Hills—Mike Evangelist 42-43-81, Russ Kawa 47-42-89, Bill Duncho 42-39-81, Stan Kusinski 45-47-92, Izzy Boron 45-43-88, Izzy Solomon 40-41-81, Felix Zuchowski 40-45-86, Frank Annecello 46-46-92.

Ellwood City—Alex Betica 42-43-81, Ken Bunney 42-46-88, Tony Gellioia 43-42-85, Laverne Clinco 43-44-91, Mitty Macioti 43-43-88, Louis Casty 43-47-90, Phil Bicari 39-44-83, Edward Karcish 45-42-87.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Bill Fannell, colored, has umpired behind the bat in two of the championship first half, Lawrence County league games. He worked both games on Lee avenue. Bishop and Price have also appeared twice while D. Rutch, Jim Dunn and Frankie Ross have had one turn at umpiring. It is said that Pick Glitch will strengthen the umpires staff for the second half. Toughie Evans is due to return to the arbiters ranks, it is said.

Tommy Jones, former lightweight, now a policeman, meets George Chip, former world's middleweight champion. "If you had a thousand dollars and bet on Sharkey what would have happened?" asked Jones. "I would have lost it," replied George. "Me, too," said Tommy wending his way along the street.

And then along came Mike Scanlon, who is big and according to some bears a resemblance to Jack Dempsey. He approached the writer: "I see where you guessed wrong," said Mike. "Yes, you're right, Mike," he replied. He smiled and continued on his way.

Tommy Pagley didn't get into the Predict columns but said: "I knew Carnera would win. I had it all figured out." Bob Laters, manager of boxers said: "I told Frankie Ross to tell you to write 'Carnera' one more." Jimmie Steiner reflected, "I studied over the fight for three days, worked it out, then said Carnera."

It is interesting to hear what they say now. It was a guess for or against. Sharkey lost his head and was as nervous as a feline playing with a mouse. He lost trying. When they counted him out his face was buried in the canvas and he didn't hear the count.

Ever watch Alec Black in action. He's manager of the Tigers. He is as nervous as a feline playing with a mouse. As he struts along the line he talks to himself as his head bobs back and forth. He will talk more to himself if Nick Carnera's Mahoning A. A. takes the second game of the series.

Some good ball players of the city will be at Centennial field today. They will show the youngsters trying for the American Legion team how they should play their position. Several of the Universals will help George Emery who sent out a call for this assistance yesterday.

Wonder what Paul McCullough thinks as he plays first base for the Tigers. By occupation he is a hurler. At one time he was wanted by John McGraw for the Giants. That was when he was with Toledo. Later he went to the Senators, Paul says he likes to get two on base then smack the ball out of the lot.

Earl Loucks, football coach at Greensville, Pa., for six years has been elected football coach at Martin Ferry High. Loucks will begin his duties this fall.

Having won the world's heavyweight title Primo Carnera is prepared to sail for Italy next summer. The big Italian will probably not fight again until next summer.

Illinois Women's A. C., Chicago, ran away Friday with the women's national A. A. U. track and field championship with 47 points at Chicago.

Six Teams Will Comprise East Side Mushball League

WALTHER NAMED AS PRESIDENT

A new mushball league has sprung up in New Castle, comprised entirely of East Side teams. There are six teams eager for play. The schedule to be drawn up soon will end in September when daylight savings passes out. At a meeting held last night at the "Y" Charles "Bugs" Walther, was named as president. Ray Cutler as vice-president and Franklin Oraci as secretary.

There were six teams represented at the meeting as follows: St. Andrews church, East Side Merchants, Croton Merchants, Young Yankees, Oak A. C., and Spencer. The Radlators did not attend the meeting, and their status is not known, although they had signified their intentions of playing in the newly created league.

The following playing fields will be utilized: Gaston Park, Castle Field, Spencer Field, Taggart Field, and if the Radlators join the league the Radiator Field. It is planned to play twice a week, on Mondays and Fridays.

Trophy Offered

Franklin Oraci, secretary of the league, has offered a handsome silver trophy to the champions of the league. There is considerable enthusiasm for this league, as the teams have been playing each other all season, and decided that they would organize a league.

A schedule will be drawn up in a few days. The following men were suggested to act as a Board of Commissioners: William Andrews, Mr. Wignall, and Ray "Micky" McBride. There will be no expense connected with the league. No franchise money will be required. All of the teams present last night signified their intention of playing mushball and will stick through the season. A player list of eighteen men was set. All player lists must be turned in by Monday night.

Scouting Plans For National Golf Meet

Local Boys Get Opportunity To Enter Tourney; Seek Best Player

Responding to the tremendous increase of golf interest within the past few years, especially among the younger generation, "Boys' Life", the Boy Scout magazine, is conducting a unique golf championship among the youth of the nation.

New Castle scouts, it was believed, would join with the national movement. Details of the championship contest, which will determine the best Boy Scout golfer of the 48 states, have been prepared, and the July and August "Boys' Life" magazine will carry the full story. Trophies will be donated to the winners by Frank Presbury, golf enthusiast and founder of the Father and Son association and vice president of the national Boy Scouts.

Mahoning To Pitch Hutnic

Hoffmeister Likely To Hurl For Tigers In Second Game

MAHONING HOPES TO EVEN SERIES

Having lost the first of a three game series for the first half championship of the Lawrence circuit, Mahoning A. A., National division leaders hope to even the count with the Tigers. American division first half winners on the E. A. field, July 2.

Until Stone cracked Mahoning did not apparently have a chance to score a run but when the veteran went up in the air the Tigers received a neat scare and accordingly more than half a dozen fans were lucky to cop the inaugural of the series.

It is probable that Signor Nick Caney will send his veteran south-paw, Steve Hutnic, who has been working in Butler, to the mound to oppose Hoffmeister, one of the Tigers ace. Should Mahoning drop the coming tilt it will end the series with the Tigers, first half winners.

Expect Eight Clubs In Loop

Clifton Flats To Replace Castlewood In Lawrence League

President William G. Andrews has called a meeting of managers of Lawrence County league teams to meet Monday night at the Sport Goods store and when the session is ended it is probable that the league will consist of eight clubs and announcement of the opening date of the second half.

It is reported that Castlewood will toss up their franchise and that Clifton Flats will take Castlewood's place in the loop. Clifton Flats is said to possess a sweet baseball club and if this is true they may help to add zest to the second half race.

Tigers, Mahoning, Bessemer, Volant, Polish National Alliance, Orr, West Pittsburgh and the Dewberry have determined to carry on, it is reported. Should the Dewberry brace it is probable they will be able to make a better showing than in the first half.

The first half of the American loop proved a tight race among the first several teams with Bessemer and Tigers deadlocking. In the playoff the Tigers won. Mahoning A. A. did not have much opposition in the National division, having lost only one game.

Fail To Approve Of New Oil Code

Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association Fails To Approve Recovery Code

LABOR AND WAGES SECTION APPROVED

(International News Service)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 1.—An oil industry code, prepared in Chicago last week in conformity with the National Recovery Act, today had failed to win approval of the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association, in convention here.

Strenuous opposition from the independents resulted in a withdrawal of the motion for its approval.

While declining to sanction the entire code, the association approved the section which regulates hours of labor and wages, drilling, and production.

Officers Re-Elected
By a unanimous vote, the association agreed that it shall be declared an unfair trade practice for any refiner, distributor, wholesaler or jobber to enter into either direct or indirect agreement with a service station operator or vendor of petroleum products which provides for exclusive sale or distribution of the products of the refiner or other distributor.

All officers were re-elected by the association and the board of directors was increased to 25. New directors elected are: Noel Robinson, Oil City; R. F. Haskell, Bradford; P. E. Richards, Wellsville; N. H. Weber, Chicago, Ill., and Charles Huff, Columbus, O.

Liquor Dealers Must Pay Federal Tax Again July 1

Explanation Of Various Taxes Is Made By Bureau Of Internal Revenue

Purchasers of special tax stamps, at the rate of $20.00 per year, bearing the title "Retail Dealer in Fermented Liquors," may legally engage only in the sale, in less quantities than five gallons at one time, of fermented (malt) liquors of 3.2 percent alcoholic content by weight, the Bureau of Internal Revenue at Washington states.

Every person who sells or offers for sale fermented malt liquors in quantities of not less than five gallons at one time, but who does not deal in wines and fermented fruit juices, is considered a wholesale dealer in malt liquor and, as such, is required to purchase a special tax stamp at the rate of $50.00 per year, bearing the title "Retail Dealer" may engage not only in the sale of fermented (malt) liquors but also in the sale of 3.2 percent wines and fermented fruit juices, in less quantities than five gallons at one time, without incurring additional liability.

A wholesale liquor dealer shall pay $100.00 per year. Such dealers may not only sell wines and fermented fruit juices containing not more than 3.2 percent of alcohol by weight, but may likewise sell fermented malt liquors of like alcoholic strength in quantities of not less than five gallons at one time, without incurring additional special tax liability.

A qualified wholesale dealer in malt liquor and a qualified wholesale liquor dealer cannot sell in quantities of less than five gallons without incurring liability as a retail dealer, nor can a qualified retail dealer in malt liquor, or a qualified retail liquor dealer, sell in quantities of five gallons or more at one time, without incurring liability for special tax as a wholesale dealer.

Special taxes are payable on a fiscal year basis beginning July 1 of each year, and every dealer in malt liquors or wines and fermented fruit juices is required to purchase a new special tax stamp effective July 1, 1933. The purchase of a special tax stamp as retail or wholesale dealer in malt liquors or wines and fermented fruit juices does not authorize the purchaser thereof to transact such business in conflict with State laws, or authorize the sale of spirituous liquors for beverage purposes.

Another feature of the event will be the grand drawing, which is members of the club, which will be held in the evening after the picnic dinner.

Former teachers of the school between the years 1900 and 1911 are being urged to be present, and a number will be present. The affair is for the former students of the years named and their families and several hundred people will be present.

Tentative Code Of Fair Competition To Govern Commodities Approved

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 1.—By a unanimous vote, a tentative code of fair competition governing the retail distribution of commodities today had the approval of the Pennsylvania Retailers Association, convened here for a special membership meeting.

Its principle features provide retail store employees with the right of collective bargaining; setting up minimum wage laws and fixing the maximum working hours. Elimination of unfair price competition and regulation and censorship of untruthful advertising of retail products also are included.

ROAMING

With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

There was hot time in the old town last night. Or rather late yesterday afternoon. They laid the cornerstone of the new post office with a lot of dignity and eclat, and a flock of heat that nearly melted the cute little trowels passed out. Without any doubt it was the hottest cornerstone laying in this part of the globe for some time.

By the time they get ready to open that box, say fifty or hundred years from now, the thing may have cooled off sufficiently to handle, but it will take more of that time.

Comes another letter from Don Lanigan who is one of the army of foresters located at Asaph, Tioga County. The boys have started a menagerie, with three coons and a fawn as the starter. The coons seem to have learned the ways of civilization already, according to Don, and at times they put up a yell until they get their.

Merle Gibson, who did some box fighting here, is entertaining the camp with his leather pushing prowess and has a fight booked. On the baseball team, New Castle is well represented, Chill, Shute, Kellier, Porter, Blaise, Craig, Vaughn and Fenton being regulars.

Some of the gang are coming home for the Fourth and sometime Saturday night they will get in here, if they get means of transportation. And the chances are the folks at home will get a look at some appetites that are bigger and better.

You can make all the ordinances you want, and you can expect to enforce them, but you can't legislate a boy from setting off fireworks if anybody within fifty miles is selling them. The local fathers, wisely enough, have barred the sale and use of fireworks inside the city limits. But the road stands just outside the city limits, on all the highways are selling them, and no questions asked as to where you expect to put them off.

The result is that the districts on the edges to town have had Fourth of July for a week now and probably will get more of it between now and Wednesday.

Inside information from the Park Sitters Protective Association is to the effect that the boys are going to call a convention to take up the matter of the concrete seats. Its a hard life they claim, and if resolutions will melt concrete, stand by for the worst.

Asked for their opinion in the matter, Dexter and Daphne, the talking toads were of the opinion that the human race was rather goofy anyway expecting backs on seats.

EPISCOPAL MEN

MEET IN PARK

Friday evening the men of the St. Andrew's Episcopal church held a meeting at Gaston Park, as an experiment for summer meetings and the affair was such a success that plans were made for holding monthly meetings throughout the summer months.

William Wignall gave a talk, as did other men of the group and it was decided to back the mushball team one hundred percent.

At the end of the evening the men sat down to a "watermelon" feed. They will meet again July 28.

Local Members To Attend Sessions In Pittsburgh For Several Days

Sessions of the convention will be held in Schenley Hotel. Miss Shirley Farr, a member of the faculty of Chicago University, is national president, and Mary Roberts Rinehart, who was with the war department "overseas" is an honorary member.

Members of the Overseas League served overseas during the World War as army nurses, telephone operators, librarians, ambulance drivers and canteen workers under the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Salvation Army and Altituric organizations.

Approximately 22,000 women served in these various capacities and of this number, 3,500 are registered members of the Overseas League. It has fifty-six units, of which Lawrence County Unit is one. There is one unit in Paris and one in Havana, Cuba.

The speakers include Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, president of West-
